Original report:

My son had two encounters over two consecutive weekends in Jan 2010. He didn't believe in Bigfoot. He is 22 years old and on the first weekend he was with a friend and his friend's father fishing. The father was in the boat while my son and his friend fished along the lakes in this area. They first were overcome with a terrible smell that was accompanied by hearing something large walking through the tall brush. Their first thought was a panther or hog and were afraid so they left the area and returned to the boat. Once on the boat they maneuvered over to the area where they heard it and it charged them (they still couldn't see it) while also shaking the trees. They all left the area.

On the following Saturday they went to the same area but entered it a different way (I'll explain this over the phone as it relates to where this happened). Once again the father was in the boat while they fished off the banks of the lakes. First came the smell but nothing was heard. They moved over to another area and as they started fishing a large clay rock landed in front of my son. He thought his friend did it but he didn't. As he bent down to pick up the rock he saw movement out of the corner of his eye and turned to see the subject approximately 50 yards away start to walk to the center of a dirt road.

It stopped in the middle of the road and they made eye contact. This lasted about 3 minutes. He didn't know whether to run. His friend was down a way's and didn't see it. It was somewhere between 6 and 7 feet tall with somewhat matted dark hair. This happened around 9am so the position of the sun hindered a good facial description except for the eyes. He said he felt like it just wanted him to leave. As it left it got down on all fours and ran into the brush that surrounded the lake. He got up the courage to go see if he could see it again but it was gone.

As far as where this happened is concerned I'll only give out the location if I'm allowed to go with you to look. My son would have to come as he is the only one that knows exactly where this is. From out of the house it takes about an hour and a half to get there. We don't want any media knowing about this as this is a place where hunters will go and kill it.

Follow up investigation by: David S

Unfortunately, I could not get the location of this area due to the witness not getting back with me after many phone calls and emails. Do to this, I am unable to contribute too much as to whether this was true or not. The reporter of this report did say he had talked to the BFRO first, thus why he has not contacted me back.
