Original report:

One day, when I was in fifth grade, I was at the end of my long driveway waiting for the bus to come to take me to school. It was spring time and it was the time of year that at 7:00 in the morning the sun would be shining. I live out in the country, so things like howls of coyotes didn't scare me, but what I heard was different. By my driveway is a clearing where it heads into the woods, so as I was at the end of my driveway waiting for the bus, I heard a noise like something was being strangled down on the tree line of that clearing. I quickly turned my head to look through the woods, and a few seconds later, I heard a strange Vwooooooo noise. By Vwooooo, I mean a noise a big animal would make. So as I stared down into the clearing, I saw a Giant Beast get up from a crouching position from behind the tree line and quickly walk away. To me, it seemed to be a hairy, brown beast/Bigfoot, with a faint face that kind of had a hint of blue. The weird thing about this story is that I live right next to the Yellow Wood State forest, and there has been a sighting about a hunter seeing a Sasquatch, in the Yellow Wood State forest a few months after my sighting.
